

If heteroskedasticity is present

(i.e. MLR.5 doesn't hold) standard error is not valid as an estimate of $sd(\hat{\beta}_j)$.

the confidence interval computed using $se(\hat{\beta}_j)$ will not truly be a $1-\alpha$ CI.